Aim Sterrs the Court as to the Materiality of Evidence-Contradicted by the Lawyers she Accuses-Sem: Other Divorce Cases,

Martin Partonyl Interested the Hateners In Judge McAdams's court room yesterday aftertoon with her account of the ruse by which she says "Count" Aurel Bartonyl, a Hun. whose real name is Kohn, succeeded in divorcing her. She implicated Lawyers George W. Gallinger and Abraham Levy in the alleged conspiracy.

She is a slender woman of 35, of light com plexion, and is slightly tongue-tied. Judge McAdam said he had ordered the hearing beeause she said the Court had been imposed upon when it granted her a decree of divorce on Dec. 13 last. He said he would limit the care to evidence of such imposition.

She testified that she and Bartonyi had been married on March 30, 1801, and had made several trips abroad. Early last November Bar-tonyi had told her that he wanted to take her to Europe and marry her under his right name before his relatives. If they know he had married without their consent and under the name Count Bartonvi his allowance would be cut off. He proposed a divorce as a prelude to a remarriage, and made many purchases with a view to an ocean voyage. She objected at first, but was persuaded.

Abraham Levy was attorney for her husband. Her counsel was George W. Gallinger, who, sho declared, was also cognizant of the collusive proceeding. She declared that her husband promised to furnish the evidence against himself and to pay her lawyer as well as his own. She gave Gallinger $100, but he wanted $500, so she employed Robert Greenthal, but she does not believe that Greenthal was in the conspiracy.

does not believe that Greenthal was in the conspiracy.
She astonished every one by saying that she was living with her husband while the divorce proceedings were pending, and after the decision. He had taken another room to live in ostensibly, however. The day the decree was granted Eartonyi told her shout it at night. He had given her two notes for $5,000 each as as earnest that he would remarry her. He had destroyed these notes last March. Judge Mc-Adam asked her these sharp questions:

"If he had married you again, would the divorce have been a fraud?"
No."

a fraui?" She did not think the notes would have af-fected the proceedings. She said that al-though he continued to live with her after the divorce he refused to remarry her. He suggested that she become his mistress. She did not know that he was tricking her until he declined to remarry her.

suggested that she become his mistress. She did not know that he was tricking her until he declined to remarry her.

"This proceeding is to reunite you to him," said Judge McAdam, "whom you say you have found to be a fraud. Do you think that as a sensible woman you ought to marry a fraud?"

"I have nothing else to do." she replied.

"My health has become impaired through nervous strain, and I cannot earn my living. He got all the money I had."

After Lawyers Levy and Gallinger had denied that there was any collusion about the diverce and had contradicted every material allegation of Mrs. Bartonyi, Bartonyi came to the stand on crutches. He is suffering from the results of a fail from a horse. He is a strongly built man of about 30 years and has been a riding master. He admitted giving his wife the notes, which, he said, he would pay out of his expected inheritance. He said he dropped the name kohn in 1888, before he came here. He was not a count, but had been induced by Hattle to assume the title.

pecced intertaines. He said he dropped the mame kohn in ISSS, before he came here. He was not a count, but had been induced by Hattie to assume the title.

He denied that be had arranged with Hattie for a divorce. He denied that he had been arrested for forgery in Hungary. He did not know if he had been accussed of forgery just prior to his departure from Buda-Pesth, his native city. During his trips abroad since, he says, Paris was the nearest he got to Hungary. Elizabeth MeSlane, who had the boarding house, 130 West Forty-fourth street, and her cousin, Maggie Ferguson, both testified that before and after the divorce Bartonyl had livel with Hattie there.

Hattie was recalled by David Leventrit, counsel for the accused lawyors, who showed her if she had written what was on it, and as she took time to examine it, he said:

"Come, come, you know at a glance if you wrote it," and he reached for the tablet.

"As I have had to deal with a forger I'd like to see if I wrote aii of it," she replied. She then admitted thatishe had written it. It contained two questions which she admitted she had noted in order to ask her counsel, then Burr & Delacy. One question was as to the effect of condonation on Bartonyl's charges that she had been intimate with one Madas. The other asked if a divorce could be granted on the evidence of a servant that a man had remained over night at a flat. She said the last question referred to a man who had lodgings in their flat at one time and occupied them only occasionally at times. When more questions were put to her about the writing on the tablet, she turned to the Judge and said: "Has this got anything to do with the fraud on the court."

The Judge admitted that the point was well taken. He took the papers and said he would

His wife is now a typowriter. He did not defend. Mrs. Mary Hook, a widow, testified that she had become acquainted with Girvan, believing him to be a single man. She said he induced her to spend the night of June 3 hast at the Bull's Hoad Hotel with him.

Judge McAdam has given Max Ansier an absolute divorce from his wife. Annie.

Maria Campbell of 72 East 113th street aversed before Judge McAdam that she had agreed not to opposs her husband's action for divorce, in which he recently got a divorce against hor, on his promise that she should not lose the custody of their nine-year-old child. William. She has not been able to soo the boy. The Judge decided that she may have the child on Saturday afternoons.

She says she was a servant for his parents up to February, 1802. He says he didn't promise to marry her.

MRS. BELL WANTS A DIFORCE. She Accuses Her Husband of Crucky and

CHICAGO, June 28.-Elizabeth Bell was married to Alexander L. Beil on June 10, 1872, at Warwarsing, N. Y. To-day she filed a bill for divorce, charging her husband with cruelty and adultery. Bell is said to be a relative of the inventor of the Bell telephone. He met his wife in a little New York town and took her to his home, at 143 Avenue A. New York city. It was not long, she says, before he grow tired of ler, because he thought she was not fit to grave the social circle in which he moved.

On several occasions Bell grew angry and gave her trutal blows in the face. He is described as a man of ungovernable temper. The presence of his little children did not deter him from hearing attense on his wife.

In 1883 Bell began to stay out late nights and his wife instituted an investigation. One his his he cars after played detective and traced him to a resert on West Fourteenth street. There he met Mis. Led Young Charley Cacela to Emberal About $10,000, Charles W. Caccia, 21 years of ago, eashler for Ponn Brothers, wholesale grocers at 305 Washington street, disappeared from the store last Thursday afternoon, and an examination of his books has disclosed the fact that he is an embezzler to the amount of at least $10,000 of the firm's money.

Young Caccia lived at 300 East Thirtieth street with his father. Richard Caccia, a wine merchant. He has been employed by Sonn Brothers for six years, and worked his way up from office boy to cashier. Caccia found out last Thursday that his employers had become suspicious, and about 5 o'clock in the afternoon left his deak, saying that he was feeling badly and would take a short walk to get a whiff of fresh nir. He did not return. A messenger was sent to his father's house, but he had not turned up there. Inspector McLaughlin was notified, and he detailed Detective Sergeants Heidelberg and McGinnis on the case. Tuesday night they located the young man at Clark's Hotel, in Boston, where he was regis

A telegram was received at Folice Headquarters yesterday morning, saying that Walton had been arrested and was willing to return to New York without a requisition.

Hyman Sonn of Sonn Brothers said yesterday that every night young Caecia deposited the eash on hand in bank and entered the amount in a cash balance book. That was the only book the members of the firm ever thought of looking into. It was by faisifying these cash balances that the money was stolen. Mr. Sonn happened to glance at the bank book on Thursday and noticed a discrepancy. Then he cailed for the cash book for the first time in months. Caecia heard him call for the cash book and got away.

months. Caccia heard him call for the cash book and got away.

"We were being systematically robbed," said Mr. Sonn, "and up to the present have found shortages to the amount of of $10,000. This thing has been going on since about October, and I suppose it is the old story of wine and women."

Investigation by the Police Department has proven that young Caccia has been going a rapid pace since last fail. He spent a great deal of his time with "Gene" Walton, a woman of the town, and was known to play the races.

deal of his time with "Gene" Watton, a woman of the town, and was known to play the races.

"Gene" Walton said yesterday that she knew Caccia well, and that ho came to see her about twice a week.

"Racing, bot I, was the cause of his ruin," she said. "He never spent that much money on me. He was pretty liberal, though, and always seemed to have a plenty of money. Last February Charlie and I went out sleigh riding together, and some one who knew him saw us and told his mother. His mother came here and raised the mischief with me, saying that her boy was not yet of ago. I told Charlie to keen away after that, but he wouldn't do it." "Gene" Walton's friends say that she has been wearing a great deal of jewelry and not a few diamonds since she knew Caccia. She is pretty, dark-haired, and has steel gray eyes.

Richard Caccia, the father of the young embezzler, said yesterday that his son was engaged to be married to Miss Marion Smith, a sister to Jack Smith, the man who introduced young Caccia to the Walton woman. Mr. Caccia was his son's bondsman to the amount of $3,000. He has already paid $1,000 of this sum.

MADELON GOODWIN'S DIAMOND.

She Had Jockey Penny Arrested for Steal-ing It and Then She Was Sorry.

Madelon Goodwin of 218 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, became acquainted at the Guttenburg race track with John Penny, the jockey. In a short time the two became in-fatuated with each other. When Penny had no mount in a race he sat at Miss Goodwin's side and gave her tips. Miss Goodwin frequently invested as much as $2 on Penny's tips. Penny admired the $500 diamond ring Miss Goodwin wore, and one day asked her to let him have it for a day or two to show to some friends. The young woman cheerfully consented. Penny promptly pawned the ring and invested the money on the wrong herse. Thereafter he avoided Miss Goodwin, and she was forced to depend on her own judgment for selecting good things.

After vainly endeavoring to get the ring back she preferred a charge of larceny against Penny and had him arrested. Then she became sorry and did everything she could to secure his release. Penny pleaded non rud in the Jersey City General Sessions Court yesterday to an indictment found against him. Miss Goodwin interceded for him with Judge Hudspoth. She said she lent Penny the ring, that it had been returned to her and she did not want him punished. Judge Hudspeth yielded to her nicadings and let Penny off with a fine of $100. The fine was paid and the jockey and Miss Goodwin left court together. friends. The roung woman cheerfully con-

GUNS POINTED AT RAHWAY DOGS. Women Keeping Their Pets Off the Streets

While Summary Proceedings Go On. Dogs, without the muzzles required by ordnance, bit several citizens of Rahway last week, among the sufferers being Richard Horton, Superintendent of the Rahway Gaslight Company, and two dogs, alleged to be mad, were encountered wandering in the streets. This state of affairs resulted on Monday in the following proclamation:

Notice to Dog Owrens: On and after Monday the 26th inst, all dogs found running at large and not properly muzaled will be abot. By order of the Mayor. A. B. Chang, Chief of Police. or Tuesday Policemen O'Rourke, Dunham, and Paulsen were sent out armed with double-barrelied shotguns to shoot unmuzzied dogs. Notwithstanding the drizzling rain, they had successful sport, and by evening had bagged twenty dogs. Yesterday they went out shooting again and killed nearly as many more. While the policemen have orders to use discretion they have killed some dogs that were not vagrants, and the owners of the animals are complaining. Yesterday and the day before not a woman with an English pug or a skye terrier was to be seen in the streets.

The arrest of Dr. Emil Hassler, Commissioner from Paraguay, and the refusal of the authorities of the Exposition to do anything by way of reparation, is liable to cause a lively row before the exhibits from Paraguay are open again for public inspection. Dr. Hassler is in earnest in his protest against the outrageous treatment, and the matter will be taken up by the Association of Foreign Commissioners, who do not intend to sit by while one of their number is insulted by the guard, and subjected to the humiliation of being arrested while attending to his duty. This outrage is to be brought at once before the Foreign Commissioners, and a letter of protest has already been prepared which will be sent to President Highibotham and Director-General Davis. The foreigners call aftention to the indignity put upon Dr. Jiassler, and formally demand that it be made impossible in the future for such insults to be repeated.

Dr. Hassler said to-day that the Paraguay exhibit would remain closed until suitable reparation had been made for the insult to him. If that did not come in a reasonably short time all the exhibits from his country would be withdrawn.

He Had Landed Chinese at Portland, Or., in Violation of Instructions. WASHINGTON, June 28.-The President this morning summarily removed from office Mr. Lotan, Collector of Customs at Portland, Or. This unusual action was taken on the receipt this morning of a telegram from special agents of the Treasury Department, who have been for some time investigating the fraudulent practices prevailing in the Puget Sound and Portland districts. The telegram said that they had information of the intended and Portland districts. The telegram said that they had information of the intended landing at Portland of a large number of Chinese coolies. Some weeks ago Mr. Lofan was removed, but his successor has not yet been qualified and Mr. Lotan was still in charge of the office. On his summary removal this morning his deputy was placed in charge, and will continue to act until Mr. Black, the new Collector, qualifies.

On June 15 Collector Lotan, in disregard of official instructions from the Treasury Bepartment, landed from the steamer Danuto about 250 Chinese claiming to be merchants, but who were described in an official report to the department as a "scaly and uncouth-appearing lot of coolies." The Chinese coolies now expected are on board the steamer Havtlen Republic, en route to Portland, and it was believed by the Treasury Bepartment that if Collector Lotan had been left in office he would land these Chinese without regard to law, as was done in the case of the Danuice. Inquiry at the Treasury Department discloses the fact that about $15,000 remains for the enforcement of the several Chinese acts, and on July I the new appropriation of $50,000 becomes available. As announced by Secretary Carlisle, the policy of the Administration will be, in view of the lack of funds, to rid the country of all Chinese who have cultored unlawfully in violation of previously existing laws, before endeavoring to send out Chinese who came in lawfully, but are now under the lan of the Geary law because they failed to comply with its requirements of registration, &c.

TOOK A QUART OF CHLOROFORM. The Sudden Benth of Frederic G, Van Pelt

Frederic G. Van Pelt, the younger son of Mr. Gilbert S. Van Pelt, a retired lawyer, who lives at 123 East Sixty-ninth street, died in San Francisco on Tuesday night from taking thirtyeight ounces or more than a quart of chloroform. The news was telegraphed to the unfortunate young man's father on Tuesday night by the persons with whom he was living. Mr. Van Pelt said yesterday:

"I feel positive that my son did not commit suicide, although he had every reason to be despondant at times. He was addicted to the use of drugs, and undoubtedly took a larger dose than he intended. He has used chloroform and morphine for some years, but we were not aware of the fact until about a year ago, when he took too large a dose, which nearly killed him. Where and how he contracted the habit I do not know.
"Eight years ago, when 19 years of ago, he was in the insurance business in this city, but was in the Insurance business in this city, but not being satisfied with a business life, enlisted in the army as a private. He was stationed at Pavids Island, and soon worked his way up to be a Sergeant. A year after enlisting he was sent to Vancouver Barricks, near Portland, Wash. In command of a squad of thirty men. While there he rose to the rank of Sergeant Major, and would have become a commissioned officer bad his service not run out at the time he was prepared to take the examination, which opportunity he took advantage of to leave the army. His four years service in the army we were all proud of, and we were very sorry to see him leave it, as he seemed to he more successful there than in business. Three years ago he went to San Francisco and engaged in business. While there he made the mistake which has probably caused him to indulge in the drug that killed him. He married far beneath his station, and has not been happy since. We knew that he used chloroform for nervousness, from which he has always suffored.

"We hadn't seen him for seven years and hadn't heard from him in months, when about three weeks ago we were surprised to have him waik in the house one evening and inform us that he wanted our assistance to help him get a divorce from his wife. After a stay of a few days he went back West, and since we have assisted him financially in his divorce suit. not being satisfied with a business life, en-suit. I have had one letter from him since his departure, which he wrote in a very happy vein, assuring us that everything was going satisfactorily. When he was here he took some chloral to allay nervousness, but did not some chloral to allay nervousness, but did not use it to excess, as we watched him. He has one child, 6 months old, and I do not know exactly what disposition will be made of it, but I think it will probably remain with the mother." Young Mr. Van Pelt's body has been sent for, and will be buried in the family lot in Woodlawn, Gilbert S. Van Pelt, his father, was active in legal circles and business in this city until 1889, when he retired on account of ill ness. He is not a woulthy man, but his wife's fortune is very large.
